FMA Mission and Pledge

The mission of Temple University's chapter of the Financial Management Association ("FMA") is to enhance the knowledge and professional acumen of finance majors at the Fox School of Business and Management and to foster and maintain a sense of community amongst its members and the academic and business communities.

The goal of FMA is to prepare its members to pursue career opportunities utilizing a broad range of finance skills. In addition, we seek to prepare members to interact with industry leaders and to develop contacts that will be useful during both their academic and professional careers.

To fulfill its mission and achieve these goals, FMA pledges to:

- Solicit a diverse group of high quality speakers to speak on a regular basis about the role of finance in business
- Enhance member's ability to identify suitable employment prospects by building internal and external networks with prospective employers and by working closely with Temple's Center for Student Professional Development (CSPD)
- Promote high standards of academic achievement and professional conduct
- Conduct social events, sponsor community services, and provide forums for Finance students to meet new people, and
- Respond to other related needs of our members.

Member Pledge

As a member of the Temple chapter of the Financial Management Association, I pledge to attend FMA meetings, speaker sessions and events. I am willing to participate and demonstrate leadership to the organization. Because FMA's success depends on a commitment from student volunteers, I pledge to dedicate time and effort to the FMA by assisting in the organization and conduct of FMA activities. In addition, recognizing that I represent not only the FMA, but also the Fox School, I pledge to behave in a professional and ethical manner at all times. Finally, I understand that to be considered a "Member in Good Standing", and to avail myself of the full benefits of FMA membership, I will attend at least two-thirds of FMA-meetings and sponsored activities and will either volunteer for or accept invitations to participate on various committees.
